Meet Undeniable Bajinya

Designer of one-of-a-kind fashions, expertly handcrafted one garment or accessory at a time.

Tacoma WA: Nathalie Bajinya recently relocated her business from Lakewood to the Hilltop community in Tacoma, Washington and she'd like to introduce herself. Originally from the Congo and orphaned at a young age, Bajinya faced a long road with much adversity to get to where she is today. Taught to sew while living in an orphanage in Kenya, she excelled at the craft, and has turned this lifelong passion into a career in fashion design. Under the label Undeniable Bajinya, she designs one-of-a-kind couture gowns, wedding dresses and custom-tailored fashions and accessories from her shop, Undeniable Bajinya, in Tacoma Washington. When Bajinya looks at a swath of fabric, she intuitively knows what design will best highlight the fabric's motif or drape the story it wants to tell. Without patterns, she designs, sketches and crafts each of her unique fashions from customers' measurements.

Bajinya has had the pleasure to design garments for State Senator T'wina Nobles and for a former Miss Washington.

Through life's many tragedies and travesties, with some help along the way, she has found the strength to overcome overwhelming hardships. Sewing and designing are her solace and her joy. She hopes that by sharing her story, she will inspire young people everywhere, to know that when you find a passion and follow your heart and not be afraid to ask for help, doors will open.

Undeniable Bajinya is hosting two fashion shows during Tacoma's 7th Annual Hilltop Street Fair on August 27th, at noon and 3pm—please stop by and say hello. The fair is on MLK from 9th to 14th & People's Bank.

Bajinya is available for an interview and, of course, if she can custom design an Undeniable Bajinya original for you or a colleague, she'd love to talk to you!
